

THE C.G. CONN® 52H TROMBONE

This newly designed professional-style trombone is a superb instrument for advancing musicians.

The C.G. Conn 52H accepts the standard tenor shank trombone mouthpiece and was designed to help the student make a smooth transition into the larger, symphonic trombone. It has a .547" bore with F attachment, .525"/.547" dual-bore hand slide and a seamless rose brass bell.

A very versatile trombone, the 52H provides for the large bore sound wanted in concert bands and orchestras, while allowing for a true "lead" sound in jazz ensembles. As a bonus, this professional-style instrument is priced at the intermediate level.

The C.G. Conn 52H Trombone is now available from Conn dealers worldwide. Your local dealers invite you to stop in and take it for a test-drive!
